MORENCI
MICHIGAN

VOLUME XXIII

Highlighting the 1969-1970 school year was the movement into the new school building. Over Christmas vacation preparations for the move were made enabling students to attend classes in that building at the beginning of the new year.

Some citizens of Morenci take time out of their day to transport students to and from school five days a week. These bus drivers are: Mrs. Gillespie, Mr. Eldredge, Mr. Schermerhorn, Mr. McDonald, Mr. Turnwald, Mr. Alfrey, Mr. Green, Mr. VanValkenburg, Mrs. McDowell, and Mrs. Johnston.

The many rural students ride buses to school.

A familiar sight is one of students crowded around a locker door.

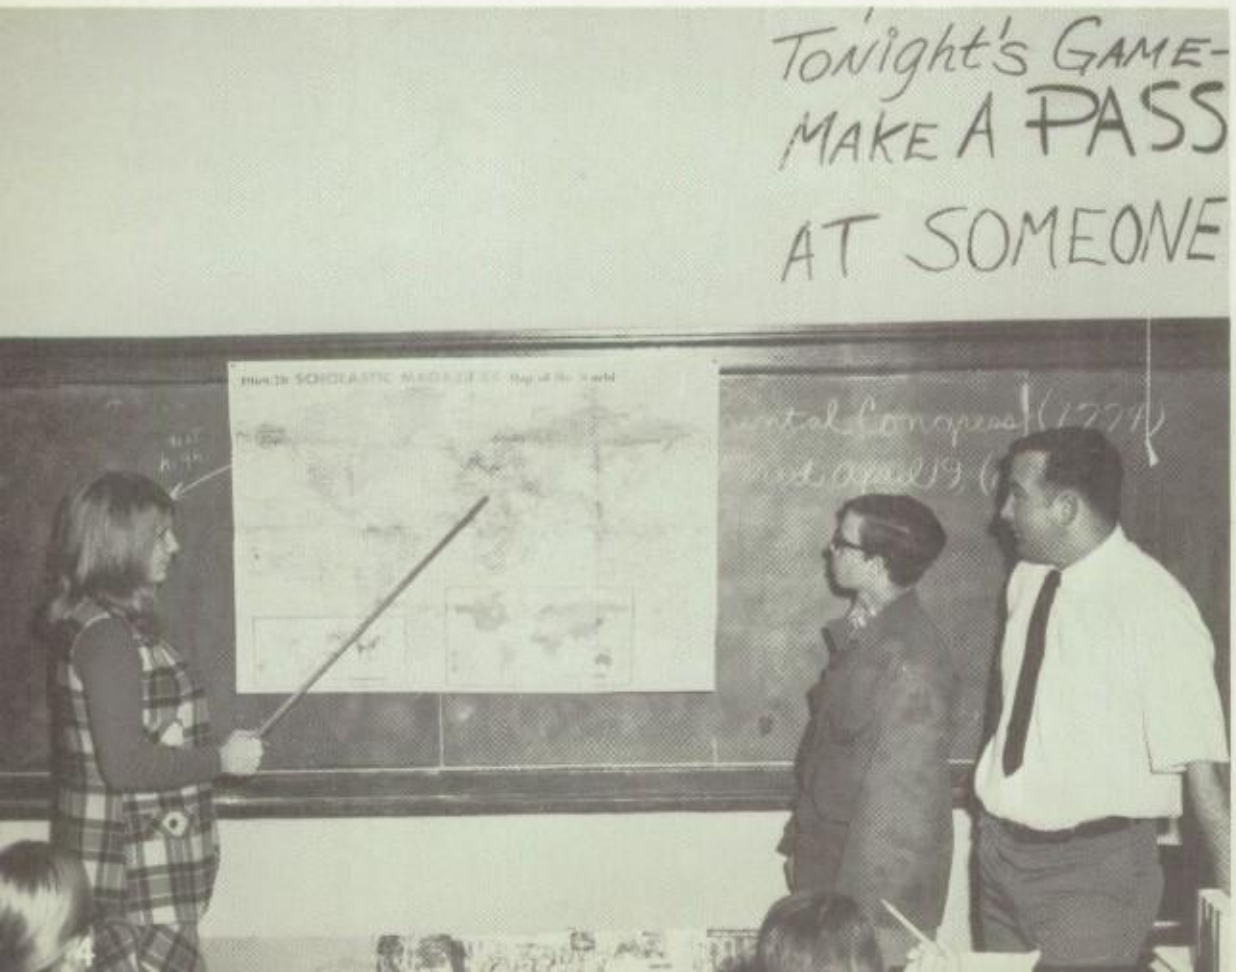
Mr. Rollins, principal of the middle school, also teaches civics and history classes.

Two social studies classes and three English classes in the middle school are instructed by Mr. Hugh Smith.

Mr. Rothfuss teaches history and civics classes in the high school.



Millage Failure Causes Curriculum Reduction

The proposed increase in the present property tax which supports the school system was defeated three times in the past year. This failure has forced the foreign language, art, elementary music, counseling, and the athletic programs to be discontinued. However, with the formation of the Athletics Boosters Club, the sports program was continued.

Middle school math is taught by Mrs. Morley Jones.

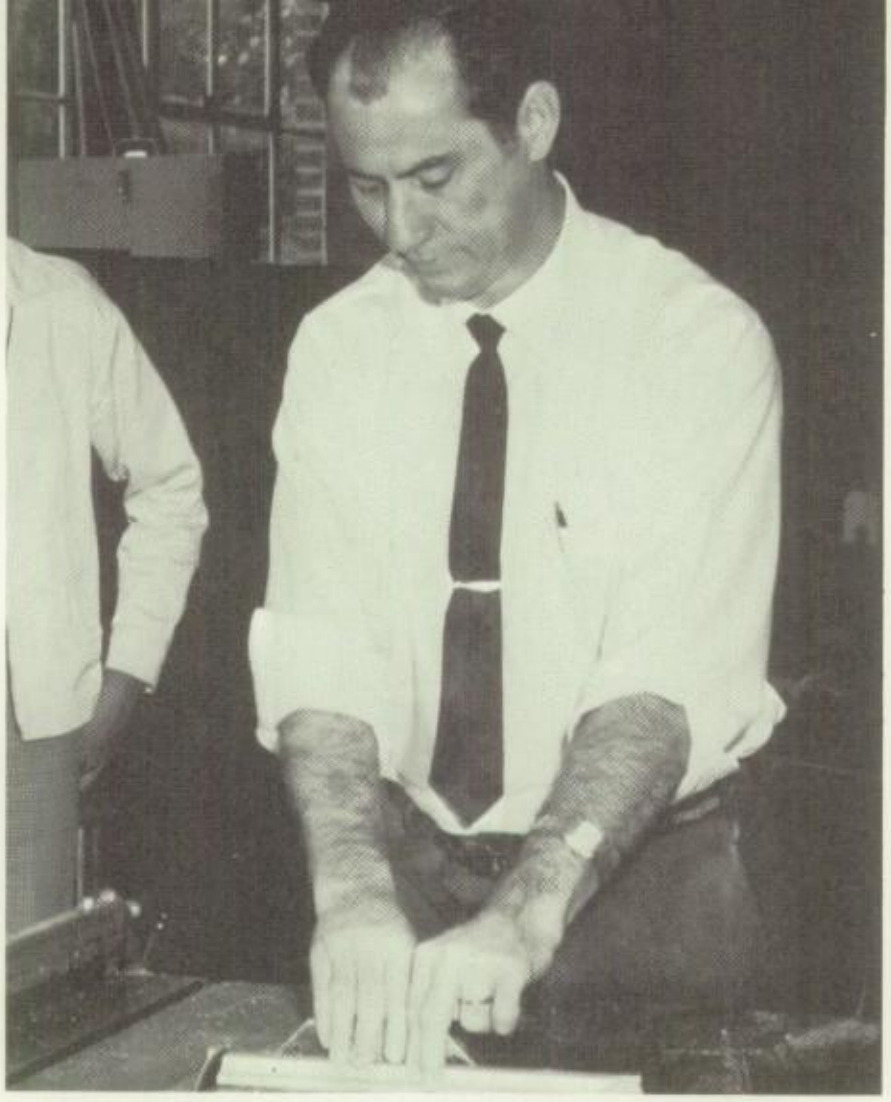
Mr. Jones teaches higher mathematics in the high school.

Mrs. VanValkenburg teaches in the middle school.

Mrs. Rix prepares students for the business world.

Students of biology, general science, and senior science are instructed by Mr. Thomas Buehrer.

HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY FILLS NINE DEPARTMENTS

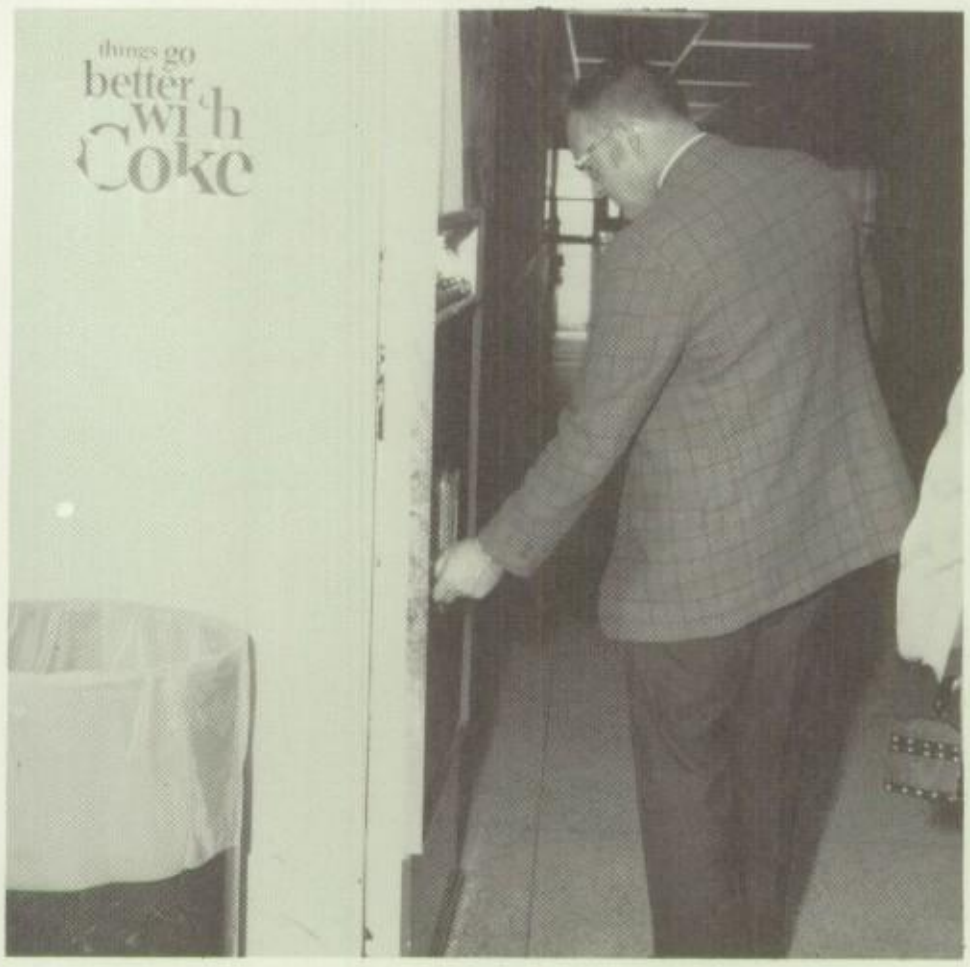


Mr. Clelland teaches shop, arts and crafts, and industrial arts.

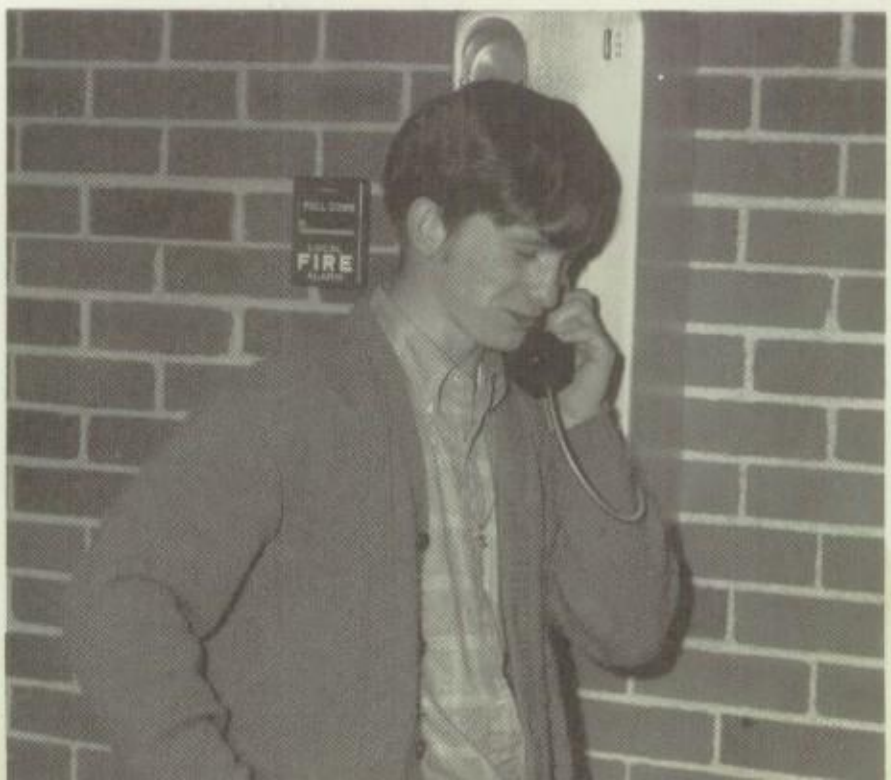
Mr. Terrell works in the business department.

Middle school students use the cafeteria as a study hall.

Mr. Hall frequently patronizes the Coke machine.



Duane uses the telephone which was installed in the east hall.



The Morenci High School faculty is divided into nine major departments. These include English, Science, Mathematics, Social Studies, Vocational Education, Physical Education, Music, and Business.

The English department includes Creative Composition, Expository Composition, Contemporary Literature, American Literature, English Literature, English Dynamics, Journalism I and II, and Speech.

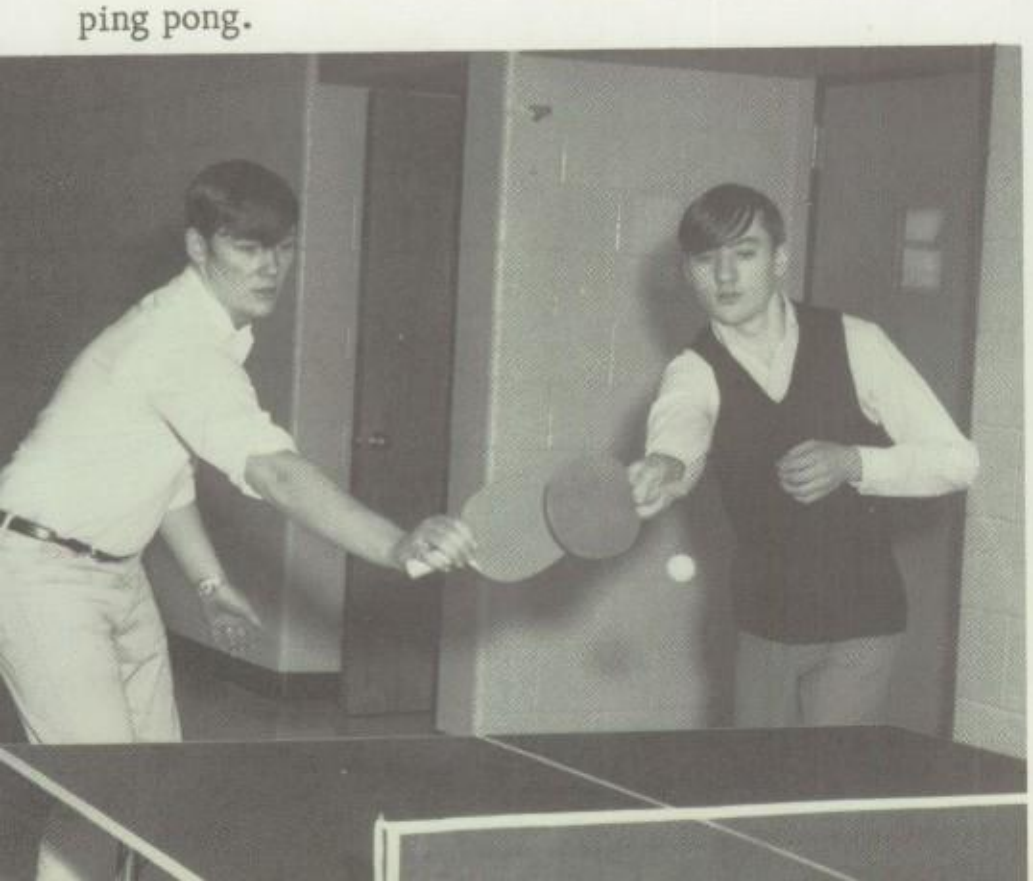
Biology I, Human Physiology, Chemistry, General Science, Physics, and Senior Science are included in the Science department curriculum.

This year the cooks prepare all lunches in the high school cafeteria.

Mr. Emmons and Mr. Walton are school janitors.

The heating problem is discussed.

Don Little and Lyle Clark participate in a game of ping pong.



Girls' basketball provides a welcome energy outlet.

Miss Ann Williams demonstrates a foul shot to her middle school students.

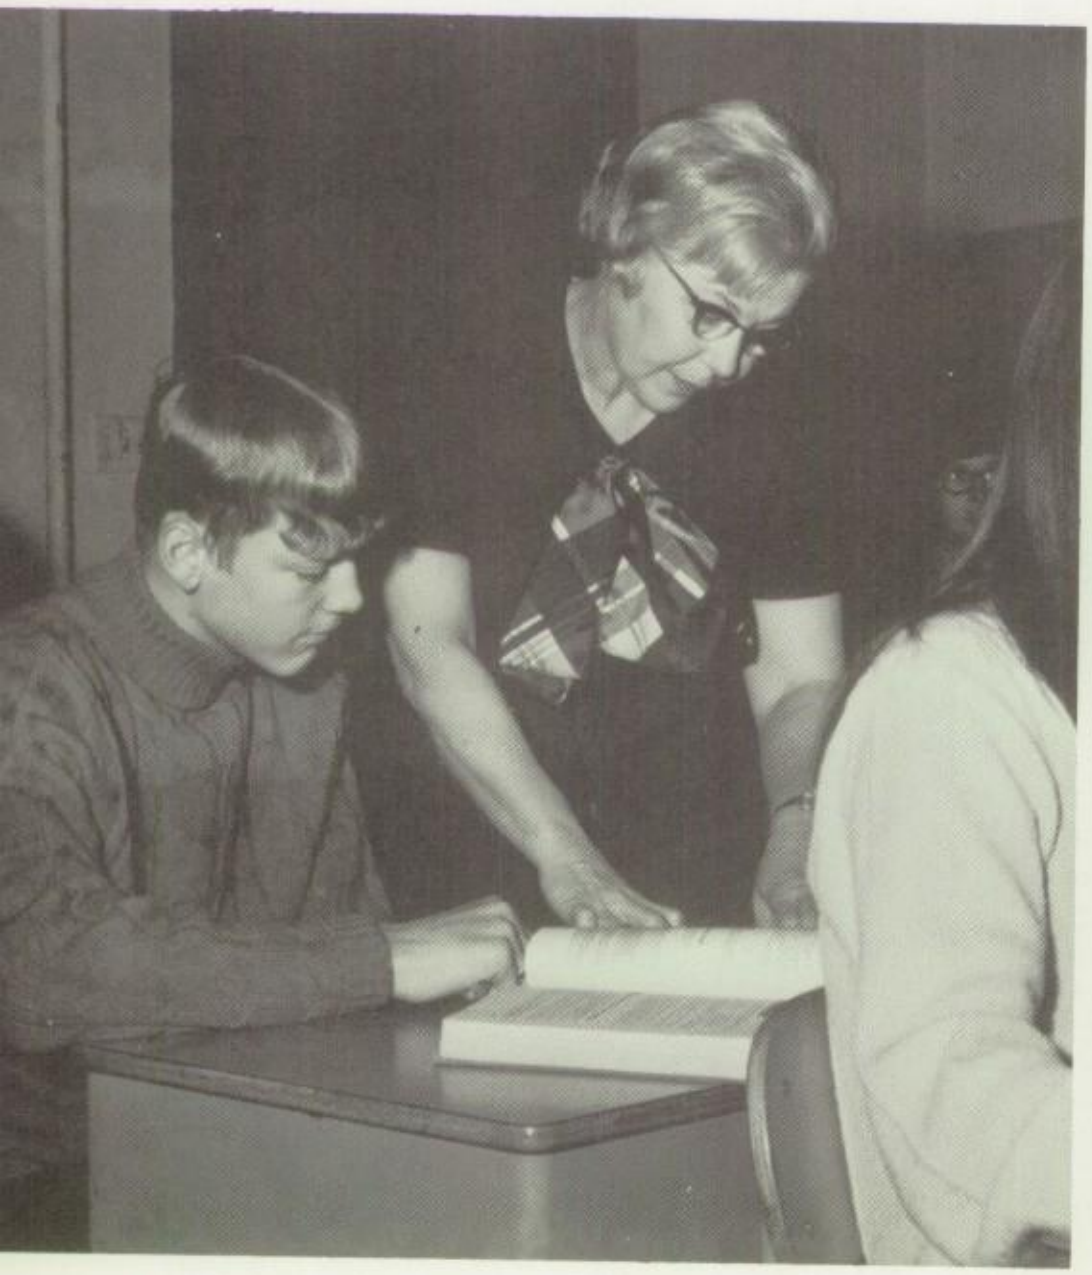
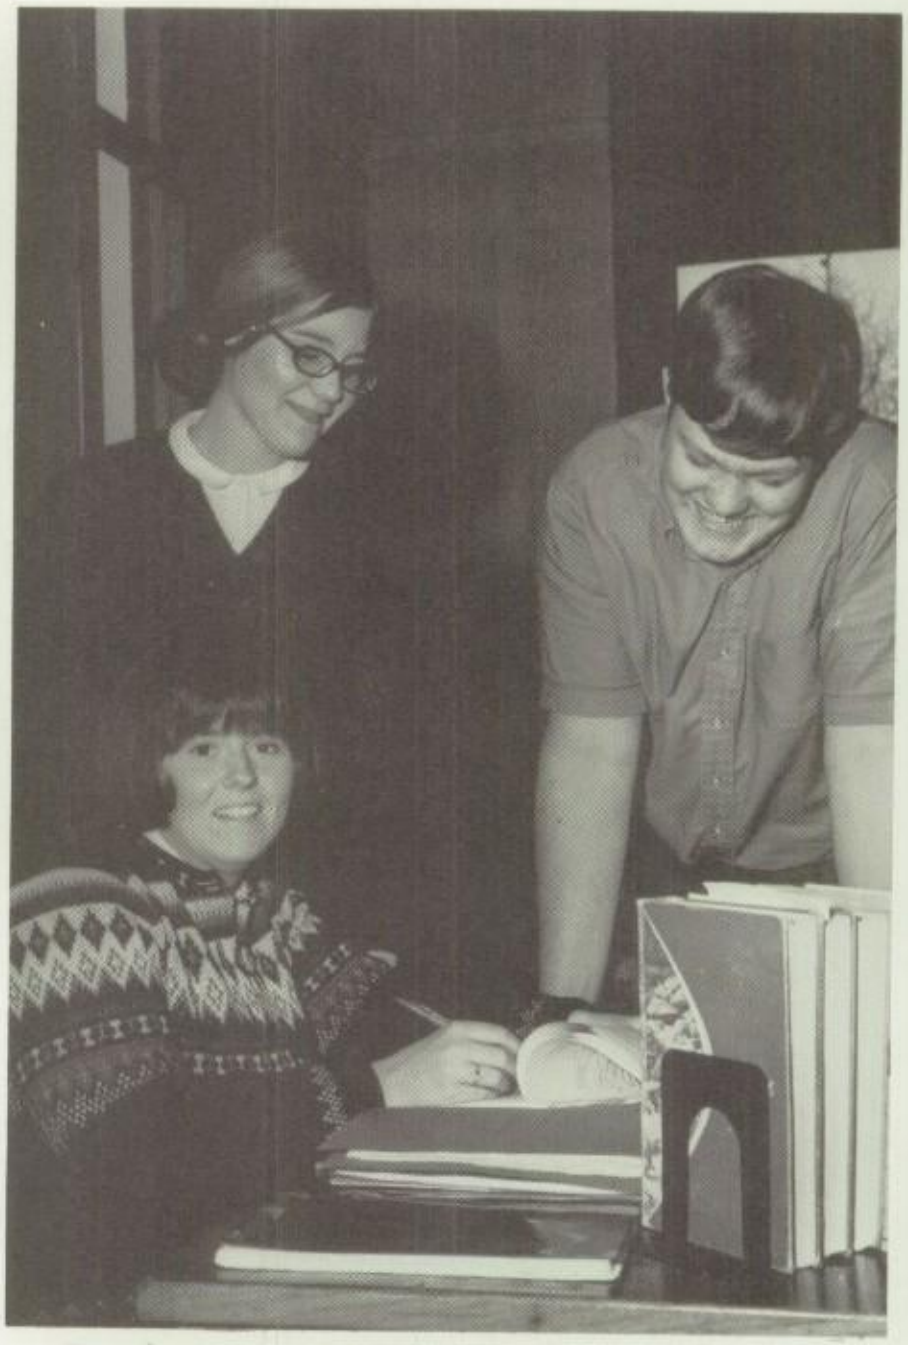
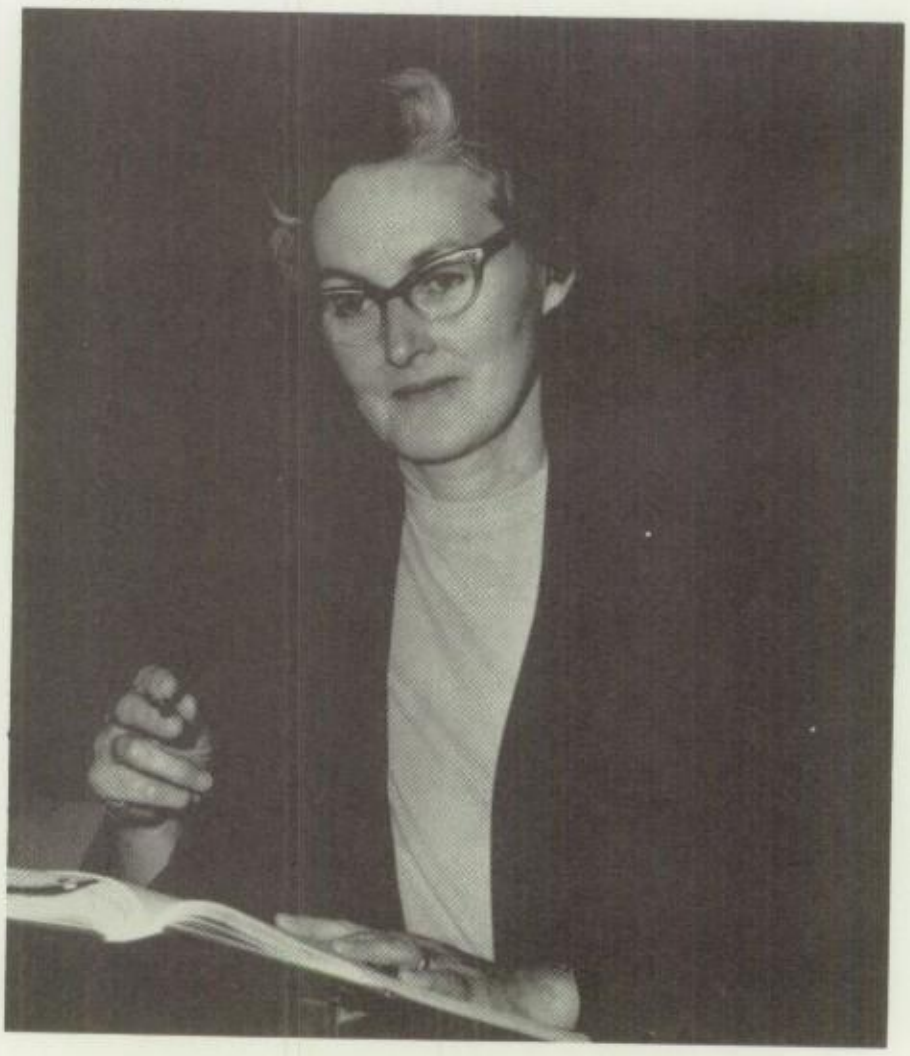
Mrs. Stahl and Kent Deatrick discuss a principle of composition in English Dynamics class.

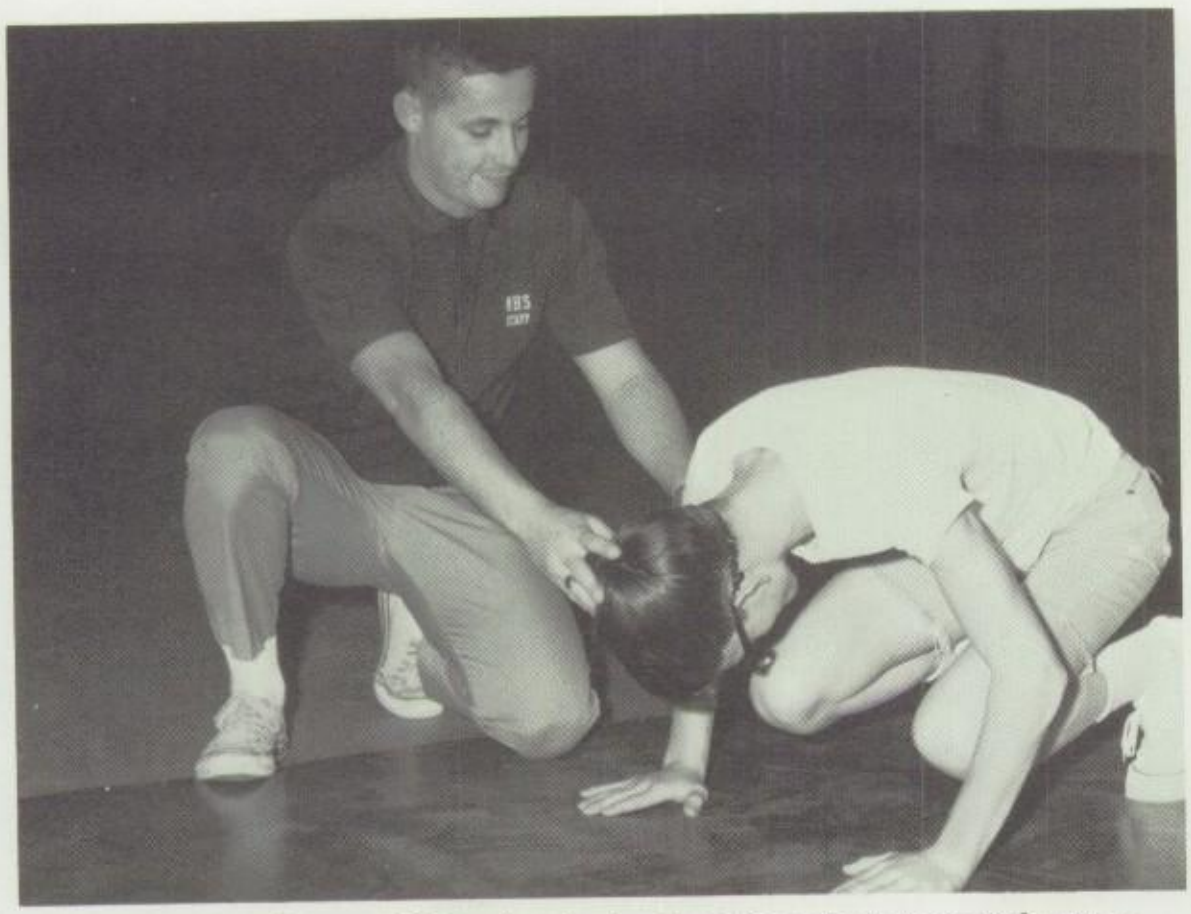




Teaching speech and journalism is Miss Kells' position this year.

Mrs. Orban explains short story interpretation in American, English, and Contemporary Literature classes.





Mr. Don Heilman of the physical education department demonstrates the proper position for a headstand to Ed Richardson.

Mrs. Geraldine Geisler keeps the library running smoothly and efficiently.

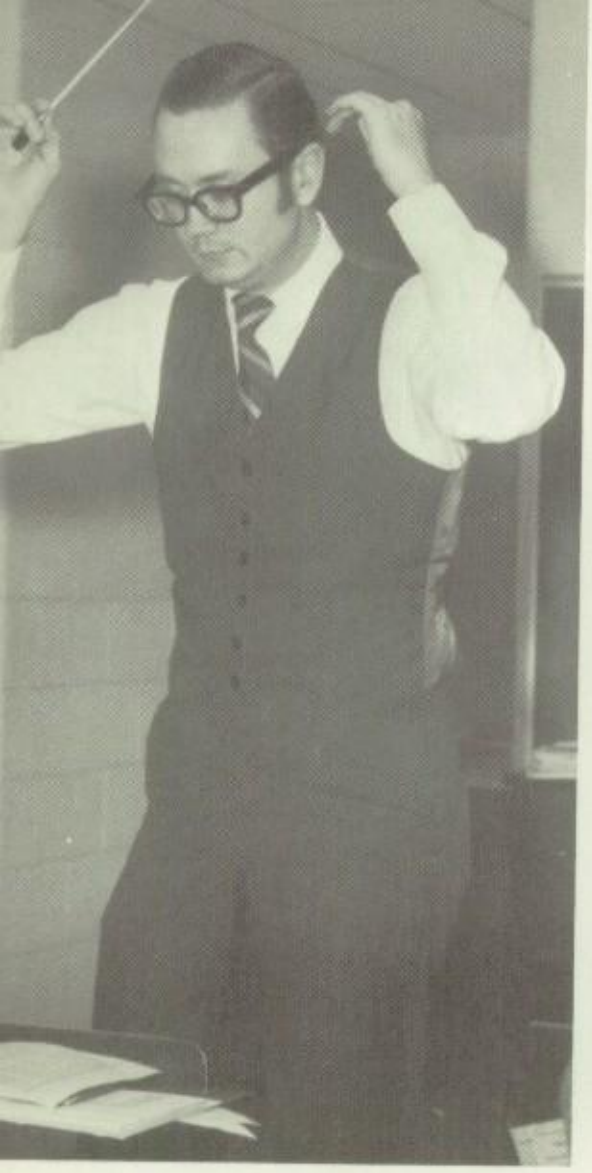
In the math department Algebra I and II, General Math I and II, Geometry, Advanced Algebra and Trigonometry are offered.

World History, American History, United States Government and Economics, and Civics are offered in the Social Studies department.

Also offered to students are classes in vocational areas. Students interested in Agriculture have the choice of taking three subjects which are Agricultural Engine Mechanics, Farm Management and Agriculture Fundamentals.

Mr. Herrman is the advisor of the Future Farmers of America and teaches agriculture.

Mrs. Kora Terry works as a secretary in Mr. Geisler's office.



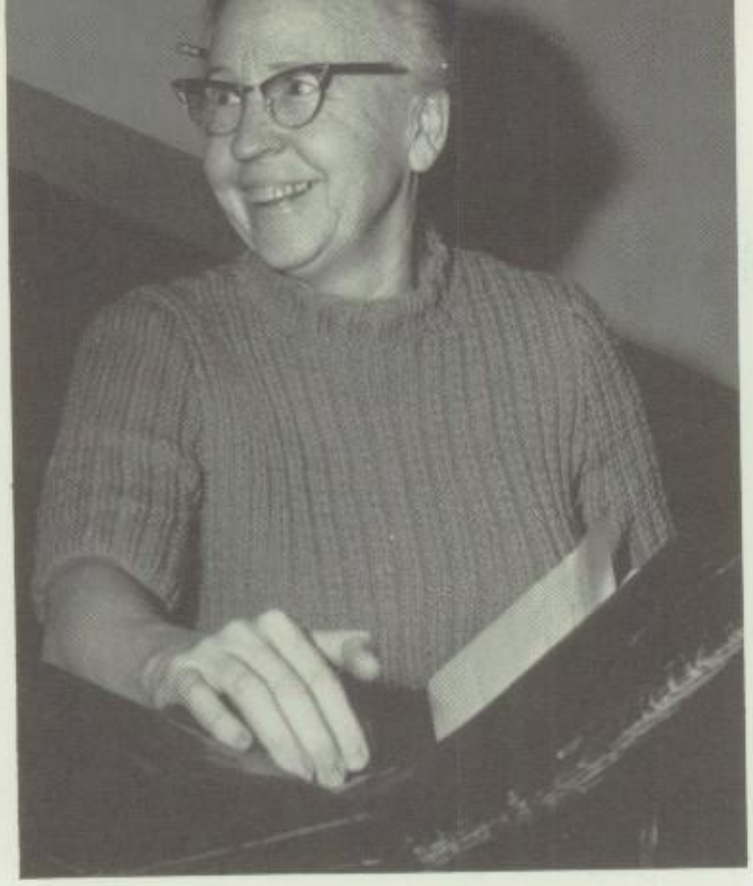
Mr. Rodenbeck has been the band instructor for three years.

Mr. Frank Tursak teaches in the middle school. His classes include science, geography and mathematics.

Classes offered in the commercial field include Typing I and II, Bookkeeping, and Shorthand. Other vocational classes include those in the fields of home economics, shop, power mechanics, and drafting.

L. to R., TOP ROW: Carol Sinks, Mary Jane Borton, Gwynne Sproull, Debbie Neil, Janice DeMeritt, Bonita Shadbolt, Carol Taylor, Lisa Rhoads, Kathy Kirsch, Joyce DeMeritt, Renee Fox, Susan Huff, Becky Zook, Donna Lowe, Jody Schang, Judy Christenson, Kyra Rollins, Laura Easler, Suzanne Lockwood, Maxine Redlawski, Vicki Campbell, Jackie Raymond, Jackie Shoemaker, Diane Waldfogel, Bertha Kime, Diane McCaskey, Dick LaRowe, and Mr. Doyle Rodenbeck.

Mr. Feller is a graduate of Michigan State University and teaches chemistry, physics and algebra this year.



Mrs. Eula Widmer teaches home economics in the vocational department.

Mrs. Alice Keller is secretary to the high school principal. Her tasks include working with both students and Mr. Hall.

Sixteen and one half units of credit are required to graduate from Morenci High School. These units must include three credits in the English field, two units of mathematics, one unit of laboratory science, two credits in social science, and one half credit of physical education.

Graduation requirements also specify that a student has earned two majors and two minors. The necessary majors are earned by completing three classes in a closely related group of subjects. A minor is earned with the completion of two classes within one department.

Mrs. Miller is employed in the superintendent's office as a secretary.

Middle school science is Mr. Lamley's field.

Officers and Advisors Head Senior Class

"Man struggles to find life outside himself, unaware that the life he is seeking is within him." This quote by Gibran was chosen as the motto for this year's senior class. The class flower is a white mum tipped in blue and the class colors are light blue and navy.

Early in the year the seniors held a magazine sale and sponsored the Homecoming Dance. They also held the Senior Prom and Sponge Dance. Throughout the year the seniors have managed concession stands at sports events. The money from these activities was used to cover graduation expenses.

Senior class officers are from L. to R.: Renee Fox, president; Linda Richardson, vice-president; Ruth Ann Shultz, secretary; and Mary Jane Borton, treasurer.

The sophomore class of 1970 donated $75 to the Athletic Boosters Club and set their dues at $1.50 this year. As a money-making project, they held a dance after the football game on October 10, at which music was provided by the "Organized Confusion."

The theme for their homecoming float was "Raid kills them dead." It was entered in competition and was awarded first place on the basis of originality, neatness, color scheme, quality of build, appropriateness to theme, and artistic design.

Freshmen learn basic science principles from Mr. Feller.

The English department offered Developmental English, which was a review of grammar and sentence structure, Contemporary Literature for more advanced students, and an introductory composition class completed by those who attended Dynamic English classes.

Students were offered a choice between General Math I and Algebra I in the math department.

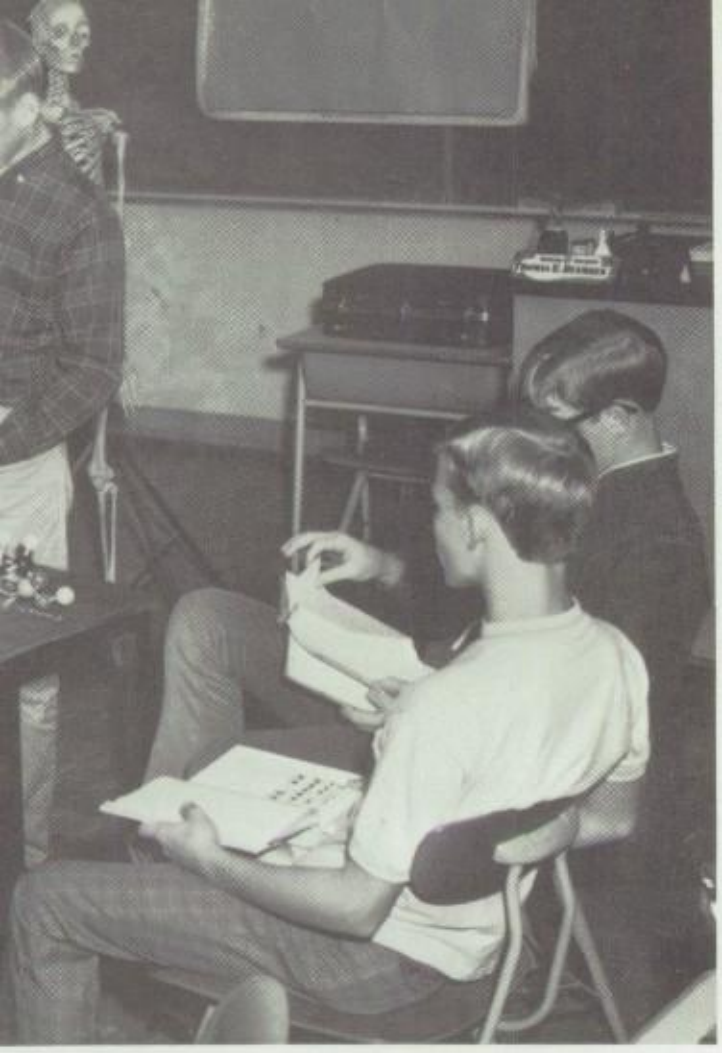
Those who chose a history elective attended either Civics or World History classes taught by Mr. Rollins and Mr. Rothfuss.

Most freshmen took General Science because only those recommended by previous science instructors were allowed to take Biology.

Vocational classes open to the new high school students were Home Economics I, Shop I, and Agriculture I.

Those interested in band were initiated into the senior band.

Civics is presented in a relaxed classroom atmosphere.



Students in General Science class participate in the construction of a model molecule.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

8th Grade – "Seniors" of Middle School

Junior High has been changed to Middle School this year. It now includes three grades - the sixth, seventh, and eighth.

Their day is divided into seven forty-five minute periods. The sixth grade, as well as the seventh and eighth, change classes and have several teachers instead of one.

The Middle School teachers are: Mrs. Jones, seventh and eighth grade math; Mr. Lamley, eighth grade American history and seventh and eighth grade science; Mr. Smith, eighth grade American history, sixth grade social studies, and seventh grade English; Mr. Tursak, seventh grade math, science, and geography; Mrs. VanValkenburg, sixth, seventh, and eighth grade English; Mr. Rodenbeck, seventh grade music, band, and sixth, seventh, and eighth grade chorus; Mr. Heilman, seventh and eighth grade physical education; Miss Williams, seventh and eighth grade physical education.

The Middle School students are attending classes in the North wing and cafeteria wing of the old high school.

Together with their advisor, Mrs. Jones, the eighth grade officers discuss problems concerning their class.

7th Grade Enrollment is One Hundred Six

The seventh grade of this year has become a part of the newly formed middle school, which also includes the sixth and eighth grades. The main purpose of this change is to more fully prepare the students for their forthcoming high school education.

Each day the students attend seven fifty-one minute periods and are allowed about forty-five minutes for lunch break, which helps to relieve much of the tension for both the teachers and the students.

The seventh grade this year is one of the largest ever in the history of Morenci High School, with a total enrollment of one hundred six.

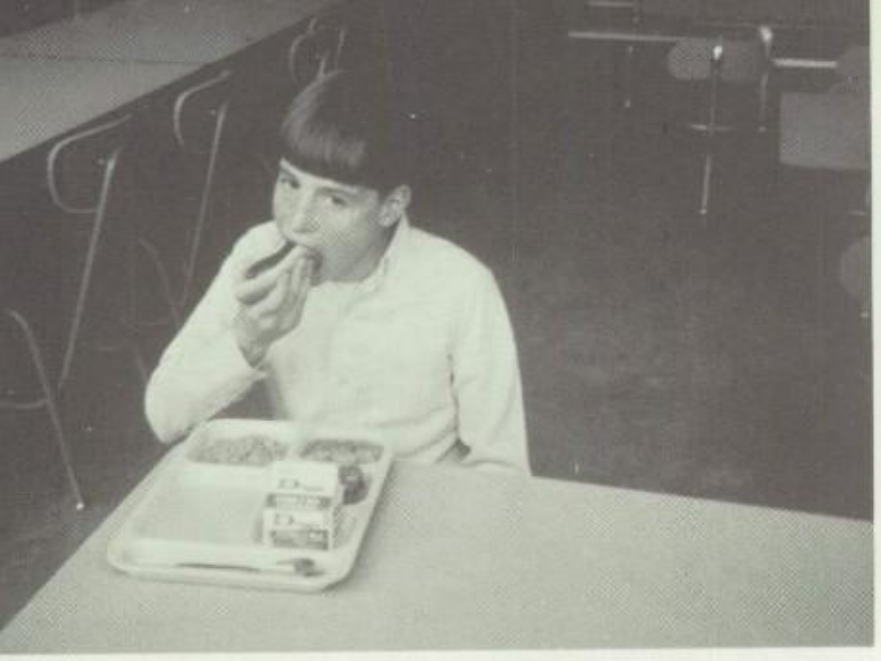
6th Grade Becomes Part of the Middle School



The 6th grade lunch period is one hour.

Lunch period offers a welcome break from classes.

Besides being members of the middle school the 6th grade has felt some other changes. This year they have different teachers for some subjects. Also the activity program has been enlarged. As a preparation for high school the 6th grades go to the city library once every other week. The 6th grade is still under the supervision of Mr. Riley while the rest of the middle school is under Mr. Hall.

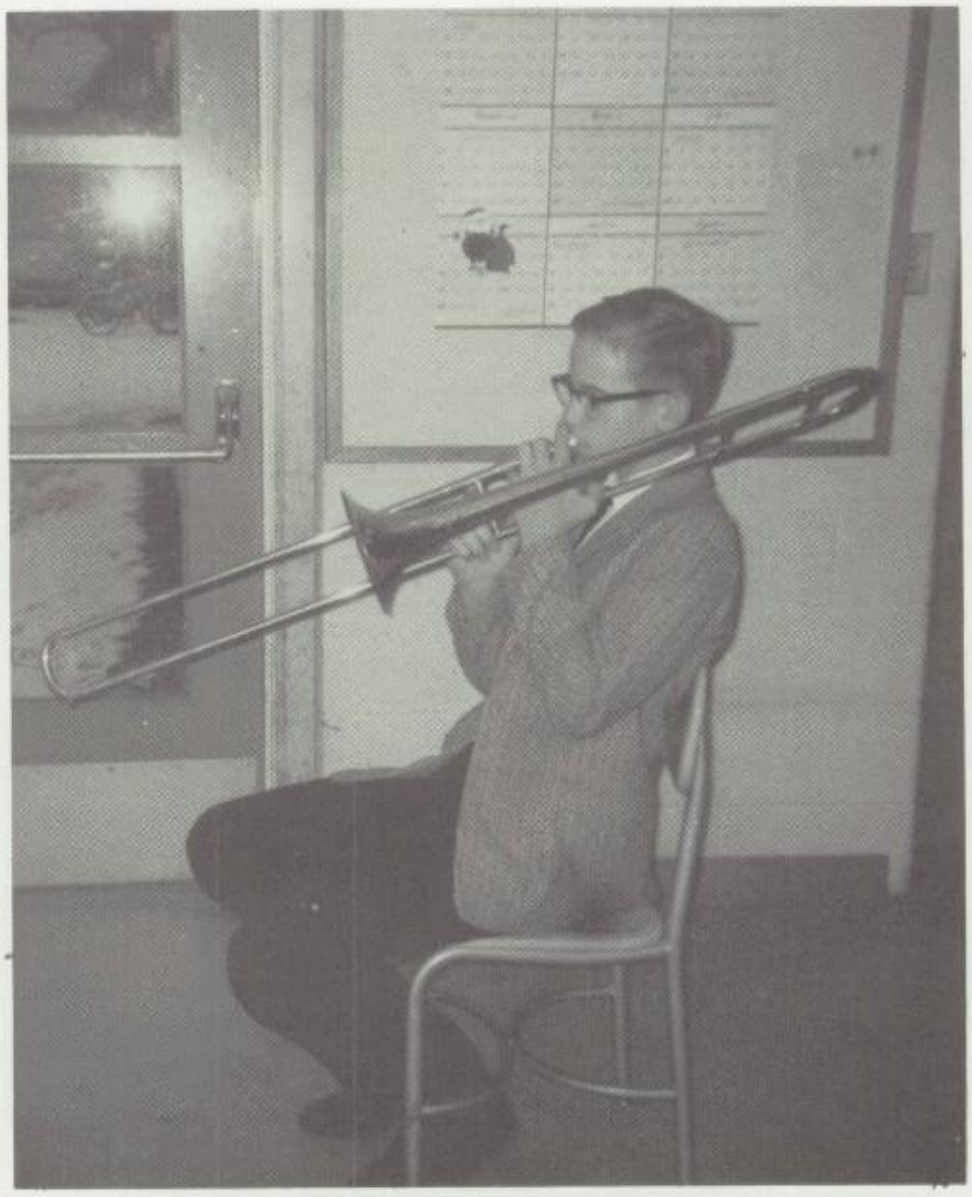
6th Grade Joins Middle School Band

The middle school band, which is the training grounds for the senior high band, has enlarged considerably this year. Two sections, the sixth grade students and the seventh and eighth grade students actually comprise the middle school band. Together they present a Christmas and a spring concert. During these programs the two sections perform both separately and jointly.

The band also presents concerts for the elementary children and plans to attend the district concert this year.



Practice is an important part of becoming a good band member, as Marvin Fankhauser illustrates.

The junior high football team, made up of seventh and eighth graders, had many difficulties in getting started this year. They had only a week and a half of practice before their first game and lost three players to injuries early in the year.

The seventh and eighth grade members played five games as a single team, then each played a separate game with Hudson.

Although they won no games, the squad of forty-two members and their coach, Mr. Rollins, feel that they gained much experience and expect a brighter season next year.

Kenneth Speelman was the leading scorer this year. Also cited for their play were Mark Knoblaugh and Alan Huff.

Although this year's junior high track team had a poor season, some very fine times and distances were recorded. Ken Speelman tied the junior high record in the 60 yard dash at 7.4 seconds. Ken was also the team's top point-getter with a total of 59. Alan Huff was a close second with 55 1/2 points, while Steve Barrett and Dan Little picked up 25 3/4 and 20 points, respectively. Other near-record performances were by Steve Barrett, who missed the high jump record by an inch, and Alan Huff who was .1 second from the hundred yard dash record.

John Gillen runs the 880 relay.

Mark Knoblauch scores the farthest long jump this season.

The reserve team, accumulating a record of five wins and two losses, displayed good sportsmanship and spirit this year.

One of the highlights of their season was the victory over the tigers, which broke Hudson's nineteen game winning streak.

Chosen by Coaches Lamley and Smith as outstanding team members this year were halfback, Dan Keller and Greg McVay, whose position was guard. The coaches feel that this year's reserve team will add greatly to next year's varsity squad.

AWARDS PRESENTED AT ALL-SPORTS BANQUET

The All-Sports Banquet was held on Wednesday evening, May 24 in the high school cafeteria. Sponsored by the M-Club, this year the coaches presented awards to boys who participated in cross country, football, basketball, track, baseball, and golf.

The presentations followed a potluck dinner at which the M-Club provided main dishes and refreshments.

Miss Williams began the program with the presentation of the GAA Sportsmanship Trophy to the captains of the girls' teams.

The coaches awarded a monogrammed letter to each athlete lettering in his first year. Many second and third year sports participants received a signed certificate. The seniors lettering for two or more years were awarded with a trophy and Roger Shaffer was named outstanding senior athlete, who excelled in many different phases of athletics.

Mr. Rollins awards Roger Shaffer with a trophy as he is named outstanding senior athlete for 1970.

Miss Williams presents the GAA sportsmanship trophy to varsity captain, Janice DeMeritt and to reserve captain, Carol Bachelder.

Mike Slyker is awarded a trophy for participating in football for his four high school years.

FTA Becomes Part of Teaching Program

The Future Teachers of America, welcoming an opportunity to introduce themselves to a teaching environment, participated in a teacher aid program with the elementary school faculty this year. In this program, interested members were enabled to observe classes and assist in tutoring during their free time.

Under the direction of their advisor, Mrs. Rix, the FTA also resumed correspondence with the students of Morenci, Arizona. By tape, ideas concerning club activities, organizations, and our foreign exchange program were traded.

The annual teacher's banquet was held in the spring and was financed through the sale of Christmas wrappings, cookbooks, and baked goods.

The high school band is under the direction of Mr. Doyle Rodenbeck. Its purpose is to educate young people in the field of music.

Unlike previous years, this year's band is headed by elected officials. Patty Johncox is the president; secretary is Gwynne Sproull; and Connie Ries is business manager. With the help of these officers and under the supervision of Mr. Rodenbeck, regulations under which the band operates, were adopted.

The high school band presented four concerts during the 1969-1970 school year. One was given for the benefit of the elementary students, and one was presented to the senior citizens. The band also presented their annual spring and Christmas concerts.

The band attended U of M Band day and participated in District 8 Band Contest.

LIBRARY OPEN HALF DAYS

Due to the millage failure, the library was open on a half-day basis this year. This posed some serious problems for Mrs. Geisler and her helpers. One of the most serious was that of finding time to organize the card catalog and arrange the filing system. To help with this, Mrs. Hazel Moore donated much of her time. This greatly aided the other librarians.

Mrs. Geisler expressed a hope that the library would return to a full-day plan next year.

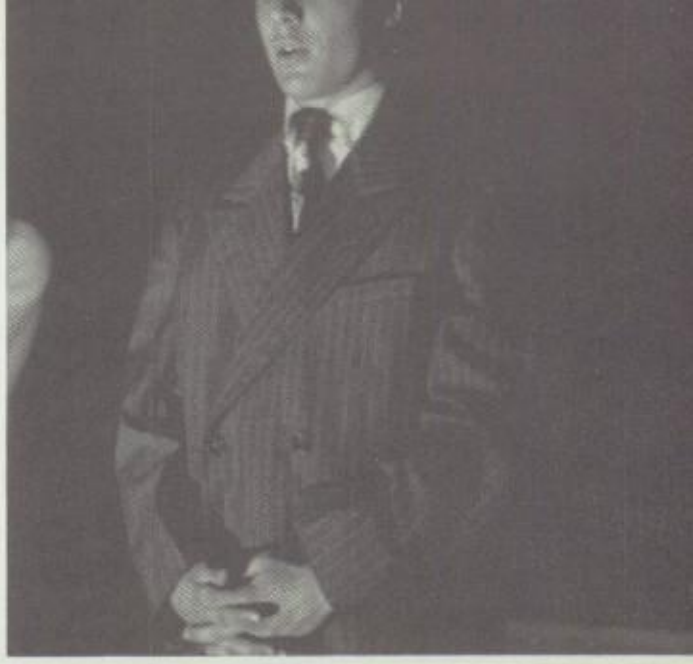
Thespians Present "Our Town"

This is Mrs. Gibbs garden ... a lot of burdock.

Mrs. Gail Johnson and Miss Martha Kells worked diligently to produce the play. They gave many helpful hints to the students and watched that there wasn't too much goofing off. Miss Kells was the advisor who chose the play and the actors who were in it. She put many long hours into the play and it was a great loss when she passed away, but Mrs. Johnson picked up at a very difficult point and added the finishing touches to make it a very successful play.

OUR TOWN CHOSEN FOR ALL-SCHOOL PLAY



Thornton Wilder's Our Town was presented on April 23, April 24, and May 5 in the new high school cafetorium.

Wilder wanted us to see and understand ourselves as we really are and so created a fictional town filled with people whose characteristics should be very familiar to us all because they are a part of us - all of us. The town is really Everytown and each person is Everyperson. Through his play, Wilder allows us to do a very rare thing - to step back and see ourselves for the first time. The play is filled with insights into people and all of the seemingly unimportant things they do each day. For his insight, Wilder received the Pulitzer Prize.

The play was directed by Mrs. Gail Johnson who took over after the death of Miss Martha Kells. The third performance was dedicated to Miss Kells.

"THREE COINS IN A FOUNTAIN" THEME OF JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

Pat presides over the ceremonies.

The Junior class honored the seniors at their annual banquet which was held on Saturday, April 25, 1970 in the high school cafeteria. Pat Spooner served as master of ceremonies for the banquet, and a farewell to seniors was given by Patty Johncox. Gary Porterfield answered her with a reminiscence of the two class's high school experiences. Mike Madalinski thanked the class advisors for their assistance throughout the year. The class wills were read by Teresa Fausey and Kim Valentine and class prophecies by Connie Lewis and Becky Smith. Entertainment consisted of a piano quartet and a girls chorus.
